TIME

Bedrich Smetana Vltava "The Moldau"
Toru Takemitsu From me flows what you call Time
Johannes Brahms Symphony No. 2

Special Guests: red fish blue fish

The La Jolla Symphony opens its 54th season with a concert that takes us around the world and through different conceptions of time. Smetana's tone poem pictures a day and a night on the mighty river that flows through Prague. Brahms composed his Second Symphony during a summer spent on the sunny shore of an Austrian lake. Takemitsu's percussion concerto draws us into an entirely different sensation of time.

December 6-7, 2008

MOTION

Evan Ziporyn Frog's Eye WEST COAST PREMIERE
Dmitri Shostakovich Cello Concerto No. 1
Igor Stravinsky Petrushka

Special Guests:

Allyson Green Dance & Lux Boreal Contemporanea Danza
Margaret Zhou, cellist

Evan Ziporyn's Balinese-inspired Frog's Eye features the dynamic Tijuana dance troupe Lux Boreal as "shadow puppet" dancers with choreography by UCSD's Allyson Green. Margaret Zhou, our 2008 Young Artists Competition winner, performs one of the great cello concertos of the twentieth century. We conclude with Stravinsky's endearing ballet about a forlorn puppet that comes to life during the Shrovetide Fair—with mysterious results.

February 7-8, 2009

HOME

Aaron Copland Lincoln Portrait
Anthony Davis Amistad Symphony WORLD PREMIERE
Rick Snow Darwin Portrait
Ottorino Respighi Pines of Rome

We celebrate the 200th birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Charles Darwin, born on the same day in 1809. Copland's Lincoln Portrait and Anthony Davis' Amistad Symphony (drawn from his opera about slavery) remind us of one of Lincoln's greatest challenges. Nee Commission winner Rick Snow offers a musical evocation of Darwin's achievement. The concert concludes with a completely different journey into the past, Respighi's brilliant Pines of Rome.

March 14-15, 2009

PERSPECTIVE

Claude Debussy La damoiselle élue
Igor Stravinsky Oedipus Rex

Choral Director David Chase leads an imaginative program that divides the chorus in two and offers two very different pieces. On the first half, the women of the chorus join the orchestra for Debussy's lovely setting of Gabriel-Dante Rosseti's poem about medieval love, The Blessed Damsel. On the second half, the men of the chorus join the orchestra for one of Stravinsky's masterpieces, his oratorio based on Sophocles' Oedipus Rex.

May 2-3, 2009

PASSION

Beethoven/Griffiths The General U.S. PREMIERE
Edward Elgar Cello Concerto

Special Guest: Maya Beiser, cellist

Music in the time of war. In The General, librettist Paul Griffiths draws a composite score from Beethoven (Egmont, King Stephen, Leonore Prohaska and Opferlied) and adds text to create a dramatic work for orchestra and actor that tells the story of the Rwandan tragedy through the eyes of the general leading the U.N. peacekeeping mission. The concert concludes as Maya Beiser performs Elgar's heartbreaking Cello Concerto, written in the aftermath of World War I.

June 6-7, 2009

HOPE

Gustav Mahler Symphony No. 2 "Resurrection"

Our season concludes as soloists, chorus, and orchestra join together for a performance of Mahler's mighty "Resurrection" Symphony. Modeled loosely on Beethoven's Ninth, it moves from a stormy beginning to a triumphant conclusion, full of ringing bells and exultant peals of sound. In its optimistic energy, it makes a perfect conclusion to an exciting season.

STEVEN SCHICK conducts the November, December, February, May, and June concerts.
